

Springcroft Primary School- Personal, Social, Health and Economic Education (PSHE)
Intent, Implementation and Impact Statement

Intent
The intent of our PSHE Curriculum at Springcroft Primary School is to give our children the skills and attributes they need to keep themselves healthy and safe and to prepare them for life and work in the modern world. Through our PSHE curriculum we intend to build confident, resilient children who are emotionally aware of themselves and others and can make a positive contribution to school and the wider community and later, as adults, to the world.
Implementation
Alongside our school's Vision and Values, which are the foundation of everything we do at Springcroft, and providing children who need it with access to the Hope Project, we teach PSHE across our school using the Jigsaw Programme, which also includes 'Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education and Health Education'. Using Jigsaw ensures a consistent approach to the teaching of PSHE and ensures whole school progression. The curriculum is taught through 6 half-termly 'puzzle pieces' each year, with each 'puzzle' containing 6 lessons. Each unit is built on every year, broadening children's learning and going into greater depth. PSHE is taught weekly for a minimum of 45 minutes. Concepts are reinforced in Celebration Assemblies, assemblies, the Learning Charter, the school vision and values, whole school events and in relationships throughout the school between children, adults and children and adults. Children's learning is evidenced in our class floor books.
Impact
We can see the impact of our teaching of PSHE through the behaviours and attitudes displayed by our pupils within the school and their relationships with others. Our children will know and value who they are and understand how to relate to others. The teaching of PSHE also impacts on our pupils in that they achieve their academic potential and they also leave our school equipped with the skills and the mindset they will need to flourish as individuals and live a successful life.
